Final Day: Join Us for the Last Chance to Experience LA Art Show's 30th Anniversary

Yesterday brought an inspiring display of community support as Los Angeles residents gathered to experience the diverse array of art on display. The evening culminated in the moving "Resonance of Love" ceremony, where sound artists and healers came together for a water blessing celebrating our city's resilience.

Join us today as artist Robert Vargas unveils his completed "Heroes" mural, a monumental tribute to our first responders. The unveiling marks the culmination of this live art creation that has engaged visitors throughout the show.

Don't miss your final opportunity to visit one of our highlight exhibitions: US Hybrid presents Colombian artist Julian Toro Duque's debut showcase. This innovative partnership between a leader in sustainable technology and contemporary art brings together Duque's bold mixed media works exploring identity and transformation. The exhibition reflects US Hybrid's commitment to combining technological innovation with cultural advancement.

The LA Art Show continues today until 6:00 PM at the Los Angeles Convention Center.
